About TRU Team Roping:

We are proud of who we are and what we represent and we are anxious to demonstrate it. Our thoughts, ideas and teaching progressions are cutting edge and result in team ropers that enjoy the sport, that improve, and win because of their foundation in the being of:

1. Excellent purpose driven Horsemen and Horsewomen.
2. Conditioned Athletes.
3. Trained in the proper fundamentals.

About Krece Harris:

Krece Harris has been involved in the sport of rodeo and team roping since he was 5 years old. From the time he was old enough to walk, he has always had a desire and passion for the western lifestyle, horses and cattle. He grew up in a family with aunts and uncles, cousins, dad, mother and a brother that all participated in rodeo and ranching. His dad owned a feed yard in Hereford, TX and managed the Feed yard operations for the King Ranch in South Texas for most of his childhood through graduating high school. Having the opportunity to grow up on 820,000 acres, Krece started working horseback at the King Ranch feed yard when he was in the 3rd grade. It was during this time, Krece started focusing his efforts into horsemanship and the importance of a good mount. Upon graduating high school in Kingsville, TX, Krece earned a rodeo scholarship to Odessa College where he was able to pursue his dreams of competing, horses and team roping. He also attended college and was on the rodeo team at Tarleton State University and Texas A&M University.

Krece has been teaching the sport of team roping over 20 years and has dedicated his focus for the last 11 years offering the highest level of instruction the sport can offer. Teaching full time is his passion and has helped and taught more ropers from across the world than any instructor in the industry during these 11 years. During this time, Krece has put together a positive and solid structure that has proven to be the most effective way to learn and understand the sport. All of his teachings are based on developing a solid foundation, core fundamentals and horsemanship. As he always says in his clinics, “your horse is your number one tool; work on being a better horseman and the roping becomes much easier!”

When Krece is not teaching clinics and doing private lessons, he still competes on the professional level, entering the major jackpots across the country, such as; The BFI, George Strait Team Roping Classic, Wildfire Open to the World, USTRC Open Finals and many PRCA Circuit rodeos. In 2014, he taught over 45 clinics, so time is limited to compete, but he continues to enjoy every opportunity he gets!
